Schedule of Activities & Events

Friday, March 28, 2014

A Movie on the Plaza at the Riverside Convention Center, 6:30-9 pm

Saturday, March 29, 2014

B Green Screen Demonstration (provided by RUSD), 1-4 pm

C Robotics Demonstration - "The Future of Robotics," 1-4 pm

Meet NAO, the humanoid robot who can walk, talk, and dance. He can introduce himself, greet and interact with you. Fitted with tactile sensors by senior engineering design students under the supervision of Dr. Grace Ni at California Baptist University (CBU), NAO responds to voice commands and can recognize objects and faces. Several NAO robots will surprise you with a group performance. Brought to you on behalf of the Long Night of Arts & Innovation, Dr. Anthony Donaldson, Dean of CBU College of Engineering, and Dr. Grace Ni, Associate Professor of Electrical & Computer Engineering.

D Collaboration X, 12 noon-4 pm

A network of some of the leading young artists in the region will host a free, interactive paint wall. The two 4' X 4' walls will be available for participants and their families to express their creativity in a collaborative setting. The ongoing transformation of the painting will be available for all to see throughout the day. Collaboration X is a program of the Riverside Arts Council.

E Taiko Drummers at the Riverside Convention Center, 4:30-5 pm

Be awed and amazed by the magic of traditional Japanese Taiko drumming. Taiko is believed to have been introduced to Japan through Korean and Chinese cultural influence between 300-900 CE. Some Taiko drums are similar to ones from India, Thailand, and Vietnam, and suggest a Southern Asia influence. Taiko ensembles will often use many types of drums, including the barrel-shaped nagadō-daiko as well as smaller shime-daiko. In addition to drums, Taiko ensembles may use vocals, string, and woodwind instruments for accompaniment. Brought to you on behalf of the Long Night of Arts & Innovation by the University of California, Riverside Senryu Taiko ensemble.

Main Street Mall Monuments - "Bringing Riverside's Cultural Diversity to Life"

Saturday, March 29, 2014

Riverside's history, heritage, diversity and international spirit are tied to the monuments on the Main Street pedestrian mall in Downtown Riverside. You will see civil rights sage, The Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr.; United Farm Workers founder and civil rights icon, Cesar Chavez; the hero of Korean independence and founder of the nation's first permanent Korean-American settlement in Riverside, Ahn Chang Ho; India's Mahatma Gandhi who inspired them all; and, Eliza Tibbets, women's rights champion and mother of the second "gold rush" that propelled Riverside and the region to prosperity. Walk by the monuments and watch them come alive in the words of the people who brought them to Riverside. If you have an iPhone or iPad, download the app, "Riverside Tour Guide" for a self-guided tour. See map for performance times.
